RICHMOND:

1866.

Entered, according to Act of Congress, in the year 1866, by
S. DOW MILLS AND H. W. STARKE,
In the Clerk's Office of the District Court of the Eastern District of Virginia.

PREFACE.

The Publishers in the following pages present the result of their efforts to prepare a full and accurate Directory of the inhabitants of the City of Richmond. They undertook the task to number the houses and streets, and promised to make a Directory that should be the most complete record of the names, residences and places of business of our citizens, and contain more useful and important information than any preceding one. How far this promise has been fulfilled, we leave to the impartial judgment of the citizens themselves.

The names of the streets, and the mode of numbering the houses, are deemed important, as it was impossible to procure a map of the City.

The attention of the reader is invited to the Advertising Department, also to the General Index, for valuable information.

STREET DIRECTORY.

Main Street, from the Rocketts or 35th Street to the Western Boundary of the City or Madison Street, divides the City North and South. All Streets crossing Main and running North, are called North—all Streets running South from Main are called South.

Foushee Street, from the Southern Boundary of the City, or the Penitentiary, to the Northern Boundary, divides the City East and West. All Streets crossing Foushee, and running West, are called West—all Streets running East from Foushee, are called East.

The North side of all Streets running East and West have even numbers. The South side, odd or uneven numbers.

The West side of all Streets running North and South have even numbers. The East side have odd or uneven numbers.

The Houses are numbered by squares, and not in regular order. The number indicates the Streets the house is between. For example: The No. 808 East Main Street, is between 8th and 9th Streets, and on the North side, as it is an even number, and also between 8th and 9th Streets, as 808 is between 8 and 900. So is the number between 8th and 9th Streets.

Again: 203 West Main Street is between Jefferson and Madison Streets, as they are the 2d and 3d Streets West of Foushee, and on the South side of the Street, as it is an odd number.

The Streets are named and numbered in the following manner:

Those running East and West, and lying North of Main—Franklin, Grace, Broad, Marshall, Clay, Leigh, Jackson, Duval, Baker, Charity, Federal and Coutts.

South of Main—Cary, Canal, Byrd and Arch.

Colored Churches.

FIRST BAPTIST, corner Broad and College or Church sts., Rev. ——, Pastor. Services, in Winter, Spring and Autumn, Sunday morning at 11 o'clock; Sunday afternoon at 3-45. In Summer, 4-30.

SECOND BAPTIST, Byrd, between 1st and 2nd. Sundays at 11 A. M., and 4 P. M.

THIRD BAPTIST, Leigh, near Brook Avenue.

METHODIST, 3rd, between Leigh and Jackson. Services on Sunday morning and evening.

ST. PHILIP'S (Episcopal) CHURCH, on 4th, between Clay and Leigh.

Colored Schools.

First Baptist Church, corner Broad and College or Church. This school is conducted by white ladies from Northern States, and is attended by a large number of pupils.

Second Church School, Byrd, between 1st and 2nd. This school is also conducted by white ladies from Northern States, and the attendance is large.

Third Baptist School, Leigh, near Brook Avenue. This school is also conducted by ladies from the North, and is largely patronized.

Methodist, 3rd, between Leigh and Jackson. This is a very flourishing school, and promises to be of great advantage and interest of the colored people in that section. It is also under the control and management of those white ladies of the North, sometimes called "School Marms."

St. Philip's (Episcopal) School, on 4th, between Clay and Leigh.

There are a large number of schools situated in different localities for the accommodation, education, and moral training of the colored people of this city. They appear to apply their minds to the attainment of learning and knowledge, and will, in the course of a few years, be good citizens so-called. Having the moral training of those humane sisters, as well as the moral influence of the Freedmen's Bureau, we can look with confidence for that result.

Newspaper.

The New Nation, 1323 e Franklin, up stairs. G. J. Hunnicut & Bro., editors and proprietors.

This paper was commenced under rather unfavorable circumstances, but the character of the editor is so well known, that success will eventually crown his laudable undertaking; and with the influence and popularity of the gentleman, the reputed reporter, there can be no doubt, that in a few years it will be read exclusively—North.

Societies.

There are a large number of beneficial societies in this city established by the colored people, judging from the regalia worn upon many occasions, and the initials thereon. On parades they make quite a display. It is evident that the regalia is well cared for, and is probably kept in one of the drawers of that immense Bureau, that now covers the whole of the United States, and has more keys than there are hairs on the head of the builder. The key to the pantry is lost.

In a few years we shall see the result of the labors of our friends; but I am now convinced that the colored population see now that new faces make fools fond, and that old faces are their true friends. None can provide for their necessities and wants but those who have studied their natures, and have administered to their wants. God has made the white man lower than the angels, and the African race lower than the white, and it is still the law, the universal suffrage bill to the contrary notwithstanding.

The first Constitution of Virginia was formed 1776. This was altered and amended by a convention assembled for that purpose in 1830. The last Constitution was formed by an Assembly (so called) at Alexandria, called for no purpose, save and except to change the Constitution, and the so-called Constitution created more offices than there were members in the so-called Assembly, or constituents represented. Hence the importance of "good" and "true" men from Northern States to fill the vacant offices.

Introduction of slavery into Virginia by the Dutch, August, 1620.

Abolition of slavery in the whole of the Southern States, 1865. It existed 245 years.

William and Mary College, at Williamsburg, is the oldest in the State, and one of the oldest in the country; was founded in 1691.

Hampden Sidney College, in Prince Edward county, was founded in 1783.

Washington College, at Lexington, was founded in 1812.

Randolph Macon College was founded at Boydton in 1832.

Emory and Henry College, Washington county, was founded in 1839.

Rector College, Pruntytown, Taylor county, was founded in 1839.

Bethany College, Brooke county, was founded in 1841.

There are theological schools at Richmond, in Prince Edward county and in Fairfax county; but the most important literary institution in the State is the University of Virginia, at Charlottesville, founded in 1819.

Virginia has undertaken several important works of internal improvement, by chartering private companies, several of which have been liberally aided by the State. The Dismal Swamp Canal connects Chesapeake Bay with Albemarle Sound, extending from Deep to Joyce's Creek, 23 miles, at a cost of $879,864. It has branches of 11 miles.

The Alexandria Canal extends 7¼ miles from Georgetown to Alexandria.

The James River and Kanawha Canal extends 200 miles, from Richmond, via Lynchburg, to Buchanan, in Botetourt county.

The Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac Railroad extends 75 miles to Aquia Creek. The Louisa branch, 25 miles from Richmond, proceeds 49 miles to Gordonsville.

The Richmond and Petersburg Railroad extends 23 miles from Richmond to Petersburg.

The Petersburg and Roanoke Railroad extends 59 miles to Weldon.

The City Point Railroad extends 12 miles to Petersburg.

The Chesterfield Railroad, from Richmond to Coal Mines, 13½ miles.

The Portsmouth Railroad, from Portsmouth to Weldon, N. C., 80 miles.

The Winchester and Potomac Railroad, from Harper's Ferry to Winchester, 32 miles.

The Richmond and Danville Railroad, from Richmond to Danville, 120 miles.

The Virginia Central Railroad, from Richmond to Staunton.

The Orange and Alexandria Railroad, from Lynchburg to Alexandria.

The Southside Railroad, from Petersburg to Lynchburg.

The Seaboard Railroad, from Petersburg to Norfolk.

The Richmond and York River Railroad, not in operation.

Several other railroads have been chartered by the Legislature. Many of these roads were destroyed by the Federal army during the war, but the enterprize of the citizens of Virginia have put them again in successful operation, and they are now doing a thriving business.

Jan. 1856, Henry A. Wise.
" 1860, John Letcher.
" 1864, Wm. Smith.

Under the Constitution formed by the people of the State of Virginia, Governor Smith would be, and legally is, the Executive officer of this Commonwealth. There appears to have been a military necessity for changing the Constitution of this Commonwealth. The bosoms of the patriots, the peace-loving, law-abiding citizens of Alexandria, or at least that portion who had lived there for a long time, as far back as 1861, according to tradition, beyond which we have no authentic history, assembled in Convention, formed a new Constitution, held an election, met in council, passed laws, &c. At or about this time, the present incumbent, Francis H. Peirpoint, was elected Governor. Therefore, the good old State of Virginia is blessed with two Governors until January 1, 1868; and we are informed that there is another one somewhere about Weeeling, and we would not be surprised if there were more about Lynchburg, or in the southwest portion of the State. If the people are not blessed with one convenient, we would be pleased to furnish the individual. We will guarantee them plenty of "Cool Ice" and Honey-cut to sweeten their juleps.

Virginia is 370 miles long and 200 broad at its greatest width, containing 64,000 square miles, or 40,960,000 acres. This was the area when that portion of the State originally ceded to the General Government belonged to the District of Columbia; but for the last few years it has become moveable property, or portable at least, and it is not certain now whether it belongs to Virginia or the District of Columbia. This area also has reference to the State before military necessity compelled the Congress of the Divided States to form a new State, West Virginia (so called), out of a part of the original State of Virginia, in accordance with the provisions of the Constitution of the United States, which expressly declares that "no new State shall be formed out of any State without the consent of its Legislature."

Counties of Virginia and Remarkable Places.

Accomac County lies on the Eastern shore of Virginia, which is cut off from the State by Chesapeake Bay. Accomac was formed from Northampton County, in 1672, its original name was Accawmacke. Drummondstown is the county seat.

Albemarle was formed in 1744 from Goochland. The University of Virginia, at Charlottesville, is in this county. The mansion house of Thos. Jefferson, at Monticello, 3 miles east of Charlottesville. The remains of Thos. Jefferson lie here.

Alleghany was formed in 1822 from Bath, Botetourt, and Monroe. The passage of Jackson's River through Wait's Mountain is a sublime feature of the natural scenery of this county. Covington is the county seat. Fort Young is in this county.

Amelia was formed in 1734 from part of Prince George. There are few places of any note in this county.

Amherst was formed in 1761 from Albemarle. The James River passes through the Blue Ridge in this county, and affords beautiful scenery.

Augusta was formed from Orange in 1738. Virginia Lunatic Asylum, and the Institution for the Deaf and Dumb and Blind, at Staunton, is in this county. Cyclopean Towers, near the Augusta Springs, and Weyer's Cave, a great natural curiosity, is also in this county.

Appomattox was formed February 8th, 1845, from parts of Prince Edward, Charlotte and Campbell.

Bath was formed in 1791 from Augusta. Botetourt and Greenbrier, Warm Springs, White Sulphur and Greenbrier Springs are places of resort during summer.

Barbour was formed in 1843 from Harrison, Lewis and Randolph.

Bedford was formed from Lunenburg county in 1753. Peaks of Otter, near Liberty, is 4200 feet above the plain, and 5307 feet above the level of the ocean, which is more than a mile in height.

Berkeley was formed in 1772 from Frederick. The Hon. Felix Grundy was born on the 11th September, 1777, in a log house on Sleepy Creek, in this county.

Loeb Brothers, Clothiers, 1313 (Old No. 119) East Main Street.

Braxton was formed in 1836 from Lewis, Kanawha and Nicholas, and named from Carter Braxton, one of the signers of the Declaration of American Independence.

Brooke was formed from Ohio county in 1797. It is sometimes called the "Pan-Handle. It lies in the narrow neck of land between Pennsylvania and Ohio. Bethany is beautifully situated 8 miles east of Wheeling. It was the residence of Dr. Alexander Campbell, the founder of the "Campbellite Baptists." Bethany College was founded by Dr. Alexander Campbell in 1841.

Botetourt was formed in 1769 from Augusta.

Brunswick was formed in 1720 from Surry and Isle of Wight.

Buckingham was formed in 1761 from Albemarle. Buckingham White Sulphur Spring is in this county. Much gold is supposed to lie beneath the surface. The mineral resources of this county is unsurpassed by any in the State. Slate is abundant.

Cabell was created in 1809 from Kanawha.

Campbell was formed from Bedford in 1784. Col. Chas. Lynch resided in this county, whose course of punishing desperadoes and lawless individuals, established the name of "Lynch Law."

Caroline was formed in 1727 from Essex, King and Queen and King William. Edmond Pendleton was born in this county in 1741, and died in Richmond in 1803. He was president of the Court of Appeals, and of the Virginia Convention of 1775.

Carroll was formed in 1842 from the Southwestern part of Grayson, and named from Charles Carroll, of Carrollton. Grayson Sulphur Springs, now within this county.

Charles City was one of the eight original shires into which Virginia was divided in 1634. Wm. Henry Harrison, the 9th Pres't of the United States, was born at Berkeley, February 9th, 1773. John Tyler, the 10th President of the United States, and the 6th from Virginia, was born on the James River, in this county, in 1790, about 5 miles below Berkeley, and strange to say, that Harrison & Tyler were run upon the same ticket for President and Vice President at the same time.

Charlotte was formed in 1794 from Lunenburg. This county was the residence of three distinguished Virginians, viz: Patrick Henry, Jno. Randolph, and the late Judge Paul Carrington, Sen. Red Hill is on the Southwest angle of the county. There lived and died Patrick Henry, the man who, Jefferson said, "was the greatest orator ever lived;" and to whom Randolph applied the words of sacred writ, as being the one "who spake as never man spake." The residence of John Randolph is near the Staunton, in the Southern part of the county, several miles above its junction with the Dan, and about 13 below Charlotte Courthouse, Roanoke, the seat of Randolph. Jno. Randolph, of Roanoke, was born June 2nd, 1773, at Carson's, Prince George county.

Chesterfield was formed from Henrico in 1748. Manchester, in this county, lies on the south side of James River, immediately opposite Richmond, and is connected by the railroad and Mayo's bridge. Coal is abundant in this county.

Clarke was formed in 1836 from Frederick, and named from Gen. Geo. Rogers Clarke. Greenway Court, the seat of Lord Fairfax, is in this county.

Culpeper was formed in 1748 from Orange, and named from Lord Culpeper.

Cumberland was formed in 1748 from Goochland.

Dinwiddie was formed in 1752 from Prince George.

Doddridge was formed February 4th, 1845, from Harrison, Tyler, Ritchie and Lewis.

Elizabeth City was one of the eight original shires into which Virginia was divided in 1634. Old Point Comfort, on which stands Fortress Monroe, is 2½ miles from Hampton, in this county.

Essex was formed in 1692 from a part of Rappahannock county.

Fairfax was formed in 1742 from Prince William, and named after Lord Fairfax. Mount Vernon the homestead of General George Washington, and the tomb which contains his remains are in this county. The following was found inscribed on the back of a small portrait of Washington, at Mount Vernon. It was written by some unknown visitor, supposed to have been an English traveller:

"WASHINGTON

The Defender of his Country—The Founder of Liberty—The friend of Man.
History and tradition are explored in vain
For a parallel to his character.
In the annals of modern greatness
He stands alone,
And the noblest names of antiquity
Lose their lustre in his presence.
Born the benefactor of mankind,
He united all the qualities necessary
To an illustrious career.
Nature made him great.
He made himself virtuous.
Called by his country to the defence of her liberties.
He triumphantly vindicated the rights of humanity,
And on the Pillars of National Independence
Laid the foundation of a great republic.
Twice invested with supreme magistracy
By the unanimous voice of a free people,
He surpassed in the cabinet
The glories of the field.
And voluntarily resigned the sceptre and the sword,
Retired to the shades of private life.

Loeb Brothers, Clothiers, 1313 (Old No. 119) East Main Street.

A spectacle so new and so sublime
Was contemplated with the profoundest admiration,
And the name of Washington,
Adding new lustre to humanity,
Resounded to the remotest regions of the earth.
Magnanimous in youth,
Glorious through life.
Great in death.
His highest ambition the happiness of mankind,
His noblest victory, the conquest of himself,
Bequeathing to posterity the inheritance of his fame,
And building his monument in the hearts of his countrymen,
He lived—The ornament of the eighteenth century;
He died—Regretted by a mourning world."

Fauquier was created in 1759 from Prince William. John Marshall, late Chief Justice of the United States, was born at a locality called Germantown in this county. Fauquier White Sulphur Springs are also in this county.

Fayette was formed in 1831 from Logan, Greenbrier, Nicholas and Kanawha. Marshall's Pillar, 1000 feet high, is seen here.

Floyd was formed in 1831 from Montgomery.

Fluvanna was formed in 1777 from Albemarle.

Franklin was formed in 1784 from Bedford and Henry.

Frederick was formed in 1738 from Orange.

Giles was formed in 1806 from Monroe and Tazewell.

Gloucester was formed in 1642 from York.

Goochland was formed in 1727 from Henrico.

Grayson was formed in 1793 from Wythe.

Greenbrier was formed in 1777 from Botetourt and Montgomery. The White Sulphur Spring of Greenbrier, the most celebrated of all the watering places of Virginia, is nine miles easterly from Lewisburg, about 170 miles from the Ohio river at Point Pleasant, 242 miles southwest of Washington city, and 205 miles west of Richmond. The Blue Sulphur Spring in this county is also quite popular.

Greene was formed in 1838 from the western part of Orange.

Greensville was formed in 1784 from the county of Brunswick.

Halifax was formed in 1752 from Lunenburg.

Hampshire was established in 1754 from Frederick and Augusta. The Ice Mountain of Hampshire is one of the greatest natural curiosities in Virginia. It is in height 500 feet. There are several other curiosities of nature in this county. They are Candy's Castle, the Tea Table and the Hanging Rocks.

Hanover was formed in 1720 from New Kent. Ashland, 16 miles from Richmond, the birth place of Henry Clay, is a beautiful little village. Patrick Henry was born in this county. It was he who exclaimed in tones of thunder, "Cæsar had his Brutus, Charles the First his Cromwell, and George the Third ["Treason," cried the Speaker; "Treason, treason," echoed from every part of the house; Henry faltered not for a moment, taking a loftier attitude, and fixing on the Speaker an eye of fire, he finished his sentence with the firmest emphasis] may profit by their example. If this be treason make the most of it."

Hardy was formed in 1786 from Hampshire. There are several natural curiosities in this county worthy of note. They are the Reguigitary Spring, the Lost River and the Devil's Garden.

Harrison was created in 1784 from Monongalia.

Henrico was one of the eight original shires into which Virginia was divided in 1634. Richmond, the metropolis of Virginia, is situated on the north side of James river, at the Great Falls; distant from Washington 117 miles, from New York 342 miles, from Boston 557 miles, from Cincinnati 520 miles, from New Orleans 1,055 miles, from Charleston 423 miles, from Wheeling 351 miles, from Lynchburg 116 miles, from Fredericksburg 62 miles, from Norfolk 106 miles, from Winchester 146 miles and from Petersburg 23 miles. Richmond was established a town by law in the reign of George II, May, 1742, on land belonging to Colonel William Byrd, who died in 1744. The locality was anciently called Byrd's Warehouse. That gentleman, at the time, had a warehouse near where the Exchange Hotel now is. It was made the seat of Government in May, 1779. The public buildings were temporary. The old Capitol, which was private property, stood on the site now occupied by the Custom House. Richmond was invaded by the traitor Arnold in 1781.

Henry was formed in 1776 from Pittsylvania, and named in honor of Patrick Henry. Martinsville is the county seat.

Isle of Wight was one of the eight original shires into which Virginia was divided in 1634. Its name was originally Warrosquyoakeshire. Smithfield is the county seat and was established in 1752.

James City was one of the eight original shires into which Virginia was divided in 1634. Jamestown, the first settlement in British America, was settled by Capt. John Smith and his companions, May 13, 1607. The site is a point of land projecting into the James. Williamsburg is the county seat. This town was first settled in 1632. William and Mary College, the oldest literary institution in the Union, except Harvard University, is in this town. It was founded in 1692, in the reign of William and Mary, who granted it a donation of 20,000 acres of land. The first newspaper published in Virginia was the Virginia Gazette, the first number of which was issued at Williamsburg, August 6, 1736.

Jefferson was formed in 1801 from Berkeley. In this county is Harper's Ferry. The dwelling of Ramsey, the first steamboat inventor, is in Shepherdstown, also in this county. He was a native of Maryland. In 1786 he he succeeded in propelling his boat by steam alone at Shepherdstown against the current of the Potomac, at the rate of four or five miles an hour. Charlestown, the seat of justice for the county, is on the line of the railroad from Winchester to Harper's Ferry, eight miles from the latter and 22 from the former. Here John Brown was executed on December 3, 1859, for attempting an insurrection among the negroes. Washington's Masonic Cave is two and a half miles southeast of Charlestown. It is divided into several apartments, one of which is called the lodge-room. Tradition informs us that Washington, with others of the Masonic fraternity, held meetings in this cavern.

Kanawha was formed in 1789 from Greenbrier and Montgomery. Charleston is the seat of justice. In this county is found the Kanawha Salt Works. The discovery of salt water in this region was led to by a large buffalo-lick on the northeast side of the river, five miles above Charleston. In this lick the first salt well was sunk in 1809.

King and Queen was formed from New Kent in 1691, the third year of the reign of William and Mary. This county is the birthplace of Carter Braxton, one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence.

King George was formed in 1720 from Richmond county.

King William was formed in 1701 from King and Queen.

Lancaster was formed in 1652.

Lee was formed in 1792 from Russell, and named after Henry Lee, Governor of Virginia from 1791 to 1794. Jonesville is the county seat. In this county the first duel fought by negroes occurred, in which both were killed.

Lewis was formed in 1816 from Harrison, and named in honor of Col. Charles Lewis, who fell at the battle of Point Pleasant. Weston is the county seat.

Logan was formed in 1824 from Giles, Kanawha, Cabell and Tazewell, and named from the Mingo chief. Lawnsville is the county seat.

Loudon was formed in 1757 from Fairfax, and named in honor of the Earl of Loudon, commander of the military affairs in America, during the latter part of the French and Indian war. Leesburg is the county seat. Oak Hill, the seat of the late James Monroe, President of the United States, is situated 9 miles south of Leesburg. Jas. Monroe was born in Westmoreland county, April 28th, 1758.

Louisa was formed from Hanover in 1742.

Lunenburg was formed in 1746 from Brunswick. Lewistown is the county seat.

Madison was formed in 1792 from Culpeper. Madison is the county seat.

Mason was formed in 1804 from Kanawha, and named from the celebrated statesman, George Mason. Point Pleasant is the county seat

Marshall was formed in 1835 from Ohio county, and named from Chief Justice Marshall.

Marion was formed in 1842 from Harrison and Monongalia, and named from General Francis Marion.

Mathews was created in 1790 from Gloucester, and named in honor of a meritorious officer of the Virginia troops in the revolution. Westville is the county seat.

Mecklenburg was created in 1764 from Lunenburg. Boydton is the county seat.

Mercer was formed in 1837 from Giles and Tazewell, and named from General Hugh Mercer, who fell at Princeton.

Middlesex was formed in 1675 from Lancaster. Urbanna is the county seat.

Monongalia was formed in 1776 from the district of West Augusta. Morgantown is the county seat.

Monroe was formed in 1799 from Greenbrier, and named from President Monroe. Union is the county seat. This county is noted and favored with several popular mineral springs. They are the Salt Sulphur, the Sweet, and the Red Sulphur Springs.

Montgomery was formed in 1776 from Fincastle, (Fincastle county was formed in 1772 from Botetourt, and extinguished in 1776 by the formation of Washington, Montgomery and Kentucky counties from its territory) and was named from General Montgomery. Christiansburg is the county seat.

Morgan, named from General Daniel Morgan, was formed in 1820 from Hampshire and Berkeley. Bath or Berkeley Springs is the county seat.

Nansemond. This county was in existence as early as 1639–40; at which time an act was passed defining its boundaries. It bore at first the name of Upper Norfolk. In 1645–6 its name was changed to Nansimunn, which word is spelt by Captain John Smith, Nandsamund. Suffolk is the county seat.

In the year 1779 Sir Henry Clinton projected a plan to humble the pride, and destroy the resources of Virginia. He sent a powerful fleet, which anchored in Hampton Roads, landed a heavy force under General Mathews, which took possession of Portsmouth and Norfolk, and committed extensive devastations. It was on this expedition, May 13th, that Suffolk was burnt.

Nelson was formed in 1807 from Amherst, and named from Thos. Nelson, Governor of Virginia in 1781. Lovingston is the county seat.

New Kent was formed in 1654 from York. The boundaries were then defined as follows: It is ordered that the upper part of York county shall be a distinct county, called New Kent, from the west side of Scimino Creek to the heads of Pamunkey and Mattoponi Rivers, and down to the head of the west side of Poropotanke Creek. New Kent Courthouse, or Bassettsville, is the county seat. On the banks of the Pamunkey is the mansion known as "the White House." It stands on the site of the one in which Washington was married, in 1759. On the eastern bank of Ware Creek, a tributary of York River, and the dividing line of New Kent and James City counties, is the "Stone House," as it is called, which is, perhaps, the most curious relic of antiquity in Virginia.

Nicholas was formed in 1818 from Kanawha, Greenbrier and Randolph. Summerville is the county seat.

Norfolk was formed in 1691 from Lower Norfolk, afterwards changed to the name of Nansemond. Norfolk was formed into a borough September 15th, 1736, by royal charter from George II. Norfolk became a city by act of the Legislature, April 24th, 1845.

Northampton was originally called Accawmacke, and was one of the eight original shires into which Virginia was divided in 1634. In March, 1642–3, its name was changed to Northampton, and in 1673 its limits were reduced by the formation of a new county, the present county of Accomac. Eastville is the county seat. Among the curiosities of this county are the ancient records of the county from 1640, and a marble tomb, or sarcophagus, about five feet high, and as many broad, from which we transcribe the following singular inscription:

Under this marble tomb lies the body of the Hon. JOHN CUSTIS, Esq.,
of the City of Williamsburg,
and Parish of Burton,
Formerly of Hungar's Parish, on the Eastern shore of Virginia, and county of Northampton.
Aged 71 years, and yet lived but 7 years, which was the space of time he kept
A Bachelor's home at Arlington on the Eastern shore of Virginia.

On the opposite side, one reads—
This inscription put on this tomb was by his own positive orders.

Northumberland was formed in 1648. Heathsville is the county seat. In the square fronting the Courthouse, stands a tree, which is said to have been planted by the same hand that penned the celebrated emancipation proclamation, and destroyed the peace and happiness of the African race. Let it stand as a monument to his memory.

The Lord hath taken him away,
Because he thought it best.
As soon as he was taken away,
That soon, we were at rest.

Nottoway was formed in 1788 from Amelia, and named from the Nottoway tribe of Indians.

Ohio was formed in 1776 from the district of West Augusta. Wheeling city is the county seat, and the capitol of the so-called West Virginia.

Orange was formed in 1734 from Spotsylvania, and derived its name from the color of its soil in the upper or mountainious portion. Its original limits comprised the whole of Virginia west of the Blue Ridge, or the State of West Virginia, now so called. This county was the home of the celebrated blind preacher, James Waddel. He was born in the North of Ireland, in 1739, and was brought by his parents, in his infancy, to America. About four miles from Orange Courthouse, on a slight eminence, is Montpelier, which was the seat of James Madison, President of the United States, from 1809 to 1817. The late Governor James Barbour, and the late Judge Philip Pendleton Barbour, the sons of Col. Thos. Barbour, were born at the family seat near Montpelier.

Page county was formed in 1831 from Rockingham and Shenandoah, and named from John Page, Governor of Virginia from 1802 to 1805. Luray is the county seat. About one mile west of the town of Luray is a cave, which is but little inferior in extent, beauty and magnificence, to Weyer's Cave. The most splendid apartments in it are Congress and Masonic Halls.

Patrick was taken from Henry in 1791. Taylorsville is the county seat.

Pendleton was formed in 1788 from Augusta, Hardy and Rockingham, and named from Edwin Pendleton, President of the Virginia Convention of 1775. Franklin is the county seat.

Pittsylvania was formed in 1767 from Halifax. Competition is the county seat.

Pocahontas was formed in 1821 from Bath, Pendleton and Randolph, and named from the Indian Princess. Huntersville is the county seat.

Powhatan was formed in 1777 from Cumberland. Scottsville is the county seat. Dr. Branch T. Archer, President of the Convention which formed the Constitution of Texas, was born in Powhatan.

Preston was formed in 1818 from Monongalia, and named from Jas. Preston, a meritorious officer in the late war with Great Britain, and Governor of Virginia from 1816 to 1819. Kingwood is the county seat.

Prince Edward formed in 1753 from Amelia. Farmville is the county seat. Hampden Sydney College originated in an Academy in this county, established by the Presbytery of Hanover, which was afterwards incorporated as a College.

Princess Anne was formed in 1691 from Norfolk county.

Prince George was formed in 1702 from Charles City.

Prince William was formed in 1730 from Stafford and King George. Brentsville is the county seat.

Pulaski was formed in 1839 from Montgomery and Wythe, and named from Count Pulaski. Newbern is the county seat.

Randolph was formed in 1787 from Harrison. Beverly is the county seat.

Rappahannock was formed in 1831 from Culpeper. It is named from the river which runs on its northern boundary. Washington is the county seat.

Ritchie was formed in 1843 from Harrison, Lewis and Wood, and named in honor of Thos. Ritchie, Esq. Harrisville is the county seat.

Roanoke was formed from Botetourt in 1838. The name is probably derived from the Indian word Roenoke, or Rawrenoke, signifying the Indian "shell-money." Salem is the county seat. Botetourt Springs is a place of some resort.

Rockbridge derives its name from the celebrated Natural Bridge. It was formed in 1778 from Augusta and Botetourt. Lexington is the county seat, and contains Washington College, (over which one of Virginia's noblest sons—Gen. R. E. Lee—presides), and the Virginia Military Institute. Gen. Sam'l Houston was born in this county. The Natural Bridge is 14 miles southwest from Lexington, 172 miles from Richmond, and 213 from Washington city. The mean height of the bridge, from the stream below to its upper surface, is 215 feet 6 inches; its average width is 80 feet; its length 93 feet, and its thickness 55 feet. The natural bridge is higher by 55 feet than the Falls of Niagara. During the term of Gen. Z. Taylor as President of the United States, a conversation arose in reference to this bridge, and the General was asked to give some explanation, when he remarked that he was but little acquainted with this natural curiosity, as it was not finished when he was there.

Rockingham was formed in 1778 from Augusta. Harrisonburg is the county seat.

Richmond county was formed in 1692, when the old county of Rappahannock was extinguished, and Essex county made from it.

Russell was formed in 1786 from Washington county, and named from Gen. Wm. Russell. Lebanon is the county seat.

Scott was formed in 1814 from Lee, Washington and Russell, and named from General Winfield Scott. It should now be changed, as that man was an enemy to his native State in her darkest hour. Estillville is the county seat. The Natural Tunnel is situated on Stock Creek. This natural curiosity was finished about the time Gen. Scott was born.

Shenandoah was established in 1772 from Frederick, under the name of Dunmore, but in October, 1777, after Lord Dunmore had taken a decided stand against the Colonists, one of the delegates from the county stated "that his constituents no longer wished to live in, or he to represent, a county bearing the name of such a tory; he, therefore, moved to call it Shenandoah after the beautiful stream that passes through it;" and it was accordingly done. Would not this be the proper course of the delegate from Scott, to make a similar move? Woodstock is the county seat.

Smyth was formed in 1831 from Washington and Wythe, and named from Gen. Alexander Smyth, an officer of the war of 1812. Marion is the county seat.

Southampton was formed in 1748 from Isle of Wight. In August, 1831, a body of 60 or 70 slaves arose upon the white inhabitants of this county and massacred 55 men, women and children. This event is known as the "Southampton insurrection."

Spotsylvania was formed in 1720 from Essex, King William and King and Queen, and named from Alexander Spotswood, then Governor of Virginia.

Stafford was formed in 1675 from Westmoreland.

Surry was formed in 1652.

Sussex was formed in 1754 from Surry.

Taylor was formed in 1844 from Harrison, Barbour and Marion, and named from John Taylor, of Caroline. Williamsport, sometimes called Pruntytown, is the county seat.

Tazewell was formed from Russell and Wythe, and named from Henry Tazewell, a member of the United States Senate from 1794 to 1799. Jeffersonville is the county seat.

Tyler was formed in 1814 from Ohio and named from John Tyler, Governor of Virginia from 1808 to 1811, and father of the late President of the United States. Middlebourn is the county seat.

Warren was formed in 1836 from Frederick and Shenandoah. Front Royal is the county seat. About three miles southwest of Front Royal is Allen's Cave.

Warwick was one of the eight original shires into which Virginia was divided in 1634.

Washington was formed in 1776 from Fincastle county. Emory and Henry College is ten miles from Abingdon. Abington is the county seat.

Wayne is a new county, formed in 1842 from the southwestern part of Cabell.

Westmoreland lies on the Potomac in the northeastern section of the State. Westmoreland has been called "the Athens of Virginia." Some of the most renowned men in this country have been born within her borders. Among these may be mentioned Washington, Richard Henry Lee and his three brothers, Thomas, Francis and Arthur, Gen. Henry Lee, Monroe, and the late Judge Bushrod Washington. President Monroe was born at the head of Monroe's Creek. Chantilly, situated upon the Potomac, now in ruins, was once the residence of Richard Henry Lee. Upon the same stream, a few miles further up, is Stratford, the family seat of the Lees for many generations. The birthplace of Washington was destroyed previous to the revolution. It stood about half a mile from the junction of Pope's Creek with the Potomac. A stone has lately been placed there to mark its site, by G. W. P. Custis, Esq. It bears the simple inscription, "Here, on the 11th of February, (O. S.) 1732, George Washington was born." This spot is of deep interest, not only from its association, but its natural beauties. It commands a view of the Maryland shore; of the Potomac, one of the most majestic of rivers, and of its course for many miles towards Chesapeake Bay. The house was a low-pitched, single-storied frame building, with four rooms on the first floor, and an enormous chimney at each end, on the outside. This was the style of the better sort of houses in those days, and they are still occasionally seen in the old settlements of Virginia. Richard Henry Lee, a signer of the Declaration of Independence, was born at Stratford, January 20th, 1732. He originated the celebrated plan of Corresponding Committees between the different colonies, adopted in 1773 by the House of Burgesses. Francis Lightfoot Lee, a signer of the Declaration of Independence, was born October 10th, 1734. In 1765 he became a member of the House of Burgesses. He died in Richmond in 1797. Henry Lee, a Governor of Virginia, and a distinguished officer of the revolution, was born January 29th, 1756. Bushrod Washington was born in this county. He was a member of the House of Delegates in 1781. He was appointed, in 1598, an associate Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States, and continued to hold this situation until his death, in November 1829.

Wythe was formed in 1790 from Montgomery, and named from George Wythe, an eminent jurist, and a signer of the Declaration of Independence. Wytheville is the county seat. It was established by law in 1792. This county is noted for its lead mines, and other minerals.

Wood was formed in 1799 from Harrison, and named from James Wood, Governor of Virginia from 1796 to 1799. Parkersburg is the county seat. About two miles from this city, in the Ohio River, is seen Blannerhasset's Island. Its original owner was Col. P. Devoll, of Virginia.

York was one of the eight original counties into which Virginia was divided in 1634. Yorktown is the county seat. Swain Tavern, in this town, is said to be the oldest in Virginia.

Richmond City, the Metropolis of the State,

Is situated on the north side of James river, in Henrico county.

For some cause the city limits do not embrace a large portion of the houses adjacent. From the corner of the city limits near Craig alley, or where the line crosses the Central Railroad, to the corner of Clay and 18th streets; thence by and with 18th street to Broad, and thence east from 18th to 30th street, a large number of houses are now in the county. Again, from the Penitentiary to the northern corner of the city is another a large number of houses outside the city limits. If the limits of the city were extended by a line southwest from the present northwest corner to the James river, and upon the eastern part, so as to embrace Church Hill, the city would be much improved.

Although this city is comparatively a modern town, yet its site is frequently alluded to in the early history of Virginia. The first mention of it is in 1609, when Master West, in a scarcity of provisions, went up from Jamestown to the Falls of James river, as the place was then called, to procure food, but found nothing edible except acorns. In the same year West was sent with a colony of 120 men to settle at the Falls. Captain John Smith, then President of the Colony, visiting West's settlement, found his people planted "in a place not only subject to the river's inundation, but environed with many intolerable inconveniences." This was, perhaps, where Rocketts now is, just below Richmond.

To remedy these inconveniences, Smith, by means of a messenger, proposed to Powhatan to purchase from him the place of that name, (which stood about two miles below the site of Richmond). The settlers, however, disdainfully rejected Smith's plan, and became so mutinous upon the occasion that Smith landed among them and committed the ringleaders to confinement. At length, however, overpowered by their numbers, he being only supported by five, was forced to retire to a vessel in the river. At this time the savages daily supplied Smith with provisions, in requital for which the disorderly

Loeb Brothers, Clothiers, (1313 Old No. 119) East Main Street.

English stole their corn, plundered their gardens, beat them, broke into their wigwams, and made them prisoners, so that the poor Indians complained to Smith that those whom he had planted there as their protectors were worse than their enemies, the Monocans. Smith embarked for Jamestown. No sooner had he sailed than a handful of Indians assaulted West's people and slew many of them. However, before Smith had proceeded a mile and a half down the river his vessel ran aground, whereupon he summoned the malcontents to a parley, and with such a panic were they struck at the assault of a few savages, that they submitted themselves to the President's mercy. He arrested the ringleaders and established the rest at Powhatan in the Indian palisade fort there, which was so well fortified with poles and bark of trees as to defy all the savages of Virginia. They found also there sundry wigwams, and near two hundred acres of land ready to be planted. And from the strength and beauty of the place they called it "Nonsuch." Smith being now on the eve of his departure, West arrived, which renewed all the troubles, and the result was that they abandoned "Nonsuch," and returned to the Falls. Smith finding all his efforts frustrated, embarked for Jamestown in his boat, for the vessels had sailed two days before.

In 1644–5 the Assembly of Virginia ordered a fort to be erected at the Falls of James river to be called "Fort Charles."

In 1675–6 war was declared against the Indians. Five hundred men was ordered to the frontier and eight forts garrisoned. "Fifty-five men out of James City county to be garrisoned near the Falls of James river, at Capt. Byrd's, or at one fort or place of defence over against him at Newlett's (or Howlett's), of which forts Col. Ed. Ramsay be captain or chief commander."

In 1676 a party of Indians evacuating a fort on the Potomac, where they had been besieged by the Colonists, "took their route over the head of that river, and thence over the heads of Rappahannock and York rivers, killing whom they found of the upmost plantations, until they came to the head of James river, where (with Bacon and others) they slew Mr. Bacon's overseer, whom he much loved, and one of his servants, whose blood he vowed to avenge, if possible.

Bacon's Quarter Branch and Bloody Run, near Richmond, still call to mind Bacon and his rebellion. The term Bacon Quarter indicates that his plantation lay there. Bloody Run, according to tradition, is so named from a bloody battle Bacon fought there with the Indians.

Richmond was established a town by law in the reign of George II, May, 1742, on land belonging to Col. Wm. Byrd, who died in 1744. The locality was anciently called Byrd's Warehouse. That gentleman, at the time, had a warehouse near where the Exchange Hotel now is.

In 1777 the assailable situation of Williamsburg to the aggressions of the enemy, caused the Assembly of the State to remove the troops, arms and ammunition, together with the public records, to Richmond, and partially from the same cause, and the extention of the population westward, an act was passed May, 1779, to remove the seat of Government there. At this time Richmond was an insignificant place, scarcely affording sufficient accommodation for the officers of the Government. The Legislature bestowed upon it the name of a city. The analogy of the situation of the place to that of Richmond-on-the-Thames, in England, suggested the name the city bears.

The public buildings were temporary. The old capitol, which was private property, stood on the site where the Custom House now stands. Richmond was invaded by the traitor Arnold in 1781.

Richmond has increased steadily in population and wealth since it became the metropolis of the State. The population in 1800 was 5,737; in 1810, 9,785; in 1820, 12,067; in 1830, 16,060; in 1840, 20,153; in 1850, 22,460; in 1860, about 35,000. Its present population is supposed to be about 65,000. Its situation is beautiful and even romantic. Shockoe and Richmond Hills stand opposite to each other, with Shockoe Creek, a bold and lively stream, between them.

In the western division of the city, on Shockoe Hill, stands the Capitol, in the centre of a square of about eight acres. The statue of Washington, in the area of the Capitol, was the work of Houdon, a French Sculptor. It was made, by the order of the Virginia Assembly, at Paris, under the direction of Jefferson, a few years after the close of the American revolution. The costume of this statue is the military dress of the revolution. One hand holds a cane, the other rests upon the fasces. The tassle attached to the head of this cane was partially broken off by a pistol ball fired by one of two editors of newspapers in this city in 1866, and during the sitting of the Legislature. Near the statue of Washington is a marble bust of Lafayette.

On the northeast corner of the Capitol Square stands the Governor's House.

Washington's Monument stands near the Capitol, on the northwestern corner of the Square.

On the southwestern corner stands the statue of Henry Clay.

On the southeastern corner stands the walls of the State Court House, which was destroyed 3rd April, 1865.

The City Hall is a fine building, and is situated on 11th street, between Broad and Capitol. It has three entrances, from Capitol, Broad and Eleventh streets. The Mayor's Court is held in the northeast room, first floor. The Hustings Court is held in the western room, on first floor, entrance Capitol street. The City Council meet in the southwestern room, second floor. The offices of the city officers are here, on the second floor.

Loeb Brothers, Clothiers, 1313 (Old No. 119) East Main Street.

St. John's Church, on Richmond Hill, is the oldest colonial place of worship in the city. This Church stands in the centre of a grave-yard.

Richmond was the capitol of the Confederate States, during the war just terminated. On the 3d of April, 1865, the city was evacuated by the Confederate forces. The public buildings were fired by order of the Confederate authorities, and a large portion of the city was consumed. The Richmond and Petersburg Railroad Depot and Bridge, Richmond and Danville Railroad Depot and Bridge, Haxall & Barksdale's Flour Mills, the largest of the kind in the country, and Mayo's Bridge, which connected this city with Manchester, were consumed. This city contains about 5,039 houses. There were destroyed in the fire of April 3rd, about 1,100, which are now being rapidly rebuilt. Some of the buildings, now in course of erection, are unsurpassed by any city, and in a few years Main street, from 9th to 14th, will be the principal business portion.

The city has just been numbered, and the result shows the following facts:

Whole number of houses, 5,039. The number occupied by white families, 3,148. The number occupied by colored, or F. B's., 1,678. The number of vacant houses, 213. The number of houses owned by white persons, 4,671. The number owned by colored or F. B.'s, 368. It may seem strange to some, but it is nevertheless true, that of 368 houses now owned by colored persons, we have failed to find one purchased since the Freedmen's Bureau has been in operation. They were acquired by them while slavery existed.

The population of the city at present is nearly as follows:

Total number of inhabitants, 61,982. Total number of whites, 37,375. Total number of colored, 24,607.

There are 32 churches divided as follows: Baptists, 6; Catholics, 3; Episcopalians, 7; Jewish, 3; Lutheran, 1; Methodist Episcopal, 6; Presbyterians, 3; Disciples, 1; Independent, 1; Friends, 1. Total number of schools, 47.

Legacies or property passing by will, or by the laws of any State or Territory, to husband or wife of the person who died possessed, exempt from tax.

No duty to be levied in respect of any succession vesting before or subsequent to the passage of this act, where the successor shall be the wife of the predecessor.

The special tax shall not be imposed upon apothecaries, confectioners, butchers, keepers of eating houses, hotels, inns, or taverns, or retail dealers, except retail dealers in spirituous and malt liquors, when their annual gross receipts shall not exceed the sum of one thousand dollars, any provision of law to the contrary notwithstanding.

THE CONCLUSION.

Citizens of Richmond:

The war just closed, and the destruction of our city by the devouring flames, was an epoch in its history long to be remembered. The recollections of that (third day of April 1865) sad event are as indellibly fixed upon the memory of the inhabitants as the mark of God's wrath upon the brow of Cain. A large portion of the business houses on Main and Cary streets fell victims to the ravages of the devouring elements, and many of our worthy citizens were rendered houseless, homeless and penniless. The evacuation of the city by our noble army, and the destruction by fire, were enough to cast a shadow of gloom over our future hopes. But let us forget the past and look to the future. Those blackened walls have nearly all been removed, and large, fine and commodious buildings occupy their places. To-day we see some of the finest specimens of architecture rearing their heads above those tottering walls, and inviting competition from the largest cities of the North, and with the skill of our mechanics, the enterprise of our citizens, and the natural advantages of our city, we can with confidence and pride predict an enviable future. Richmond situated in full view of those picturesque falls and rapids of the James, which extend more than six miles; the islands, the town of Manchester, connected by a bridge with our city; the rich plantations adjoining; the river, winding and stretching below to a great extent; the waving hills on its north side, and the valley, through which Shockoe Creek passes, are objects of admiration; and from every eminence they are seen in some new form, and under some new coloring of light and shade; the whole presenting the three great requisites of landscape, viz: grandeur, beauty, and variety. Besides it is one of the healthiest cities in the United States. It possesses advantages of water power unsurpassed in the country. Manufactories of every class can be carried on without the aid of steam. The adjacent Coal Mines afford abundant fuel for our own consumption. The Quarries, almost within the confined limits of our city, afford sufficient building material, and the fertile soil of the surrounding country, are evidences of future prosperity. The works of internal improvement, fostered by our State, and conducted by our citizens of enterprise, energy and experience, add greatly to the commercial interests, invite capital, enterprise, and permanent investments.

The James River and Kanawha Canal, extending to the Blue Ridge, through a fertile country, and giving encouragement to that enterprise, which has ever characterized our citizens to explore the mineral resources, and pour into the lap of our city the hidden treasures of the earth, are all evidences of future prosperity.

We have seven daily papers in successful operation, and conducted with energy and skill, whose editors have few equals, and no superiors.

We have thirty-two churches, with able and learned ministers, dispensing true light, knowledge and understanding, and proclaiming the unsearchable riches of Divine Truth.

We have forty-seven week, and nearly as many Sunday Schools, where our children are receiving those necessary instructions, that qualify them for the discharge of those duties we now perform.

We have a Medical College, conducted by experienced professors, and world-wide reputation.

We have eighty-eight skillful physicians within our city, and competent to administer to the wants, and alleviate the pain of our unfortunate citizens.

We have ninety-three gentlemen learned in the law, and capable of defending the interests, and prosecuting the claims of our citizens before the judicial tribunals of the country.

We have societies almost without number, whose humane and beneficial influence are seen and felt in almost every household.

We have six large and commodious hotels, capable of accomodating 2,000 guests, and conducted by gentlemen of experience, and a determination to please the most fastidious.

We have manufactories in operation, and more in course of construction, sufficient for all present demands.

We have several flour mills in operation, and one nearly completed, the largest in the country, and capable of manufacturing 2,000 barrels per day.

We have four railroads now in operation, and two more in course of construction, that do, and will add to our commercial trade, and give employment to numbers of our citizens.

We have a geographical position upon the broad landscape of our country, and the natural advantages surrounding, that dispells the dark clouds, and affords bright anticipations, and glorious prospects in the future.

We have a population celebrated for their kindness and hospitality. As far back as 1794, our ancestors were described by Paulding as "being generally" a race of most ancient and respectable planters, having estates in the country, who choose it for their residence, for the sake of social enjoyment. They formed a society now seldom to be met with in any of our cities. A society of people, not exclusively monopolized by money-making pursuits, but of liberal education, liberal habits of thinking and acting; and possessing both leisure and inclination to cultivate those feelings, and pursue those objects which exalt our nature, rather than increase our fortune." These virtues we now inherit from our fathers, and are characteristic of the present population. With all these advantages is it not reasonable to predict a bright future!

There are a few impediments existing, and we will here name them. During the war which has just closed, the inflated state of the currency and the small value of our Confederate money led many into extravagant notions, and the landlords especially in the value of their houses; and when the city was evacuated a large number of sutlers of the Federal army, with stocks of unsalable goods on hand, feeling a desire to dispose of them, flocked to our city like so many wolves upon a sheep-fold, to rob us of our last dollar, by vending their stale and worthless goods to a people whom they had helped to oppress. The fire having destroyed a large number of business houses, it was with difficulty that places could be procured to expose for sale those goods, at extravagant rates; prices unprecedented were offered and received. Consequently rents went up from 50 to 1,500 per cent., and the landlords were led to believe that it was better to indulge in the pleasures of sin for a season than suffer the sad afflictions with their unfortunate citizens. Forgetting "he that soweth to the wind must reap of the whirlwind," the wolves having realized fortunes, have now left our city, gratified at the idea that they are away; and we are sure our citizens are equally so. Many of our citizens have been forced to remove to the country, not being able to pay those extravagant rents, and consequently two hundred and thirteen houses now lie idle.

There are other matters worthy the attention of our Legislature—the confined limits of our city. There seems to be a disposition manifested by some to extend the corporate limits, and add wealth and population to the city, and many advantages to those citizens, and it is hoped that they will regard the move with favor.

A work-house, or a house of correction, where the youthful violators of the law can receive moral training and useful employment, where vagrancy can be made profitable and vice and immorality punished, is an institution much needed in Richmond.

Some years ago these things were not considered necessary for the prosperity of a city or a community, but we live in a progressive age, and we must keep step by step with moral as well as scientific improvements.

A few years ago man was considered insane when he spoke of propelling boats and locomotives by steam, or of conversing at a distance of 3,000 miles by aid of electricity, and yet we see the largest ships that float the ocean and the commerce of our country conveyed at a speed of 25 miles per hour by the application of steam; the merchant of New York conversing with his agent in London, and the President of the United States with the Queen of England, by the aid of the magnetic telegraph. The use of steam has become almost universal, and the telegraphic wires the medium of correspondence. These are but two of the immense number of improvements that afford so many advantages, and why should we not endeavor to keep pace with the times.

Finally, permit us to congratulate you upon the return of peace to our distracted country. By the energy, wisdom and patriotism of the Chief Magistrate, civil law has been restored, persons and property secure, and our rights as citizens in the Union guaranteed.

The removal of a tyrannical military commander and the appointment of one more congenial to the Southern heart are evidences of fraternal regard and national protection. It is Andrew Johnson, the President of the United States, who is spreading the cement of brotherly love and affection, that will unite us as one great national family, and woe be unto him and them who, in this world, are endeavoring to rivet the chains of oppression upon our limbs, bridle our tongues, and hold us as their subjects. They will be held accused when the bloody mandates of Herod and Nero shall be forgiven, and in the next the common damned will shun their society, and look upon themselves as fiends less foul.

BALLARD HOUSE,

RICHMOND, VA.

JOHN P. BALLARD,
THOMAS E. BALLARD, } Proprietors.

The undersigned take pleasure in announcing to the traveling public (as well as to city boarders) that they have returned to their old business again, and from this day they are ready to cater to the taste and comfort of all who may favor them with their patronage.

They have purchased all the furniture in the establishment, all of which is of the very best quality, and selected with great care from the best furnishing houses in New York within the last twelve months, and much of which has never been unpacked. Indeed, the Hotel is furnished in the most superb style.

The BALLARD HOUSE is new, and contains 120 pleasant and well ventilated lodging rooms, all of which have grates. The parlors and public rooms are large and convenient, the building is commanding, and acknowledged to be one of the best ever constructed in the Southern States, and altogether offers advantages rarely met with in a public Hotel.

Our Table shall always be generously supplied with the best the market affords, and with the delicacies of the season and the choicest of wine.

The Bar Room is an elegant one, and shall be furnished with the best of liquors, &c., &c.

We pledge our undivided attention to the business, and expect from our old friends, ladies and gentlemen of Virginia, and the whole country, their support, and hope to receive a liberal share of the public patronage.

JOHN P. BALLARD,
THOMAS E. BALLARD,
Proprietors.

Richmond, September 1, 1866.

THE BALLARD HOUSE.

By an announcement in our advertising columns, it will be seen that Messrs. JOHN P. and THOMAS C. BALLARD have assumed the proprietorship of the Hotel, built by Mr. JOHN P. BALLARD, and which bears his name in this city. This announcement is a guarantee to the public that the BALLARD HOUSE, under its new Proprietors, will stand at the head of FIRST CLASS HOTELS IN THE COUNTRY, for no HOTEL PROPRIETOR ever had a better or more extensive reputation than Mr. JOHN P. BALLARD: First at the Powhatan Hotel, then at the Exchange, and lastly at the Exchange and Ballard House. He always kept a first class Hotel, and gave universal satisfaction to his guests. The house is new, and is the best constructed Hotel ever built in the South. The furniture is all new, and is of the best quality; the parlors and public rooms are commodious and convenient; the bar room is an elegant one, and will be kept supplied with the best wines and liquors; and it is unnecessary to say that Mr. BALLARD will always keep his table supplied with the very best of everything that can be gotten in the markets, with all of the delicacies and the best wines that can be procured. Mr. BALLARD'S old friends throughout the country, North and South, will be pleased to learn that he is again at his old business, for all of them have repeatedly demonstrated to their entire satisfaction that he is a gentleman, and "can keep a Hotel."—[Richmond Examiner.

THE BALLARD HOTEL.

The resumption of the management of this elegant and popular Hotel by the brothers, JOHN P. and THOMAS E. BALLARD, is announced in our advertising columns this morning. When our notice of this House, in a recent issue, was written, we were not aware of the fact that Mr. JOHN P. BALLARD was to be concerned in the new arrangement. The return of the junior brother to the business we considered of itself sufficient reason for congratulating the public. But the occasion for such congratulation is doubled by the association in the management of the Hotel of such a veteran in the business as JOHN P. BALLARD. Few men in the country have had his experience in this line of life, and fewer still have achieved in it the wide-spread and honorable reputation he enjoys. For the two departments of internal and external management, the brothers combine precisely the qualities and qualifications needed, and we risk nothing in saying that their guests will find themselves as satisfactorily dealt with, in all particulars, as they could desire. Experience, intelligence, activity, means, liberality, courtesy and integrity make the perfect landlord—and all these are possessed by the Messrs. BALLARD.—[Richmond Whig.

THE BALLARD HOUSE.

The public will hail with delight the reappearance of the BALLARDS amongst the hotel-keepers of this city. The announcement brings back the recollection of so much comfort, so much elegant ease and enjoyment, such an array of groaning boards spread with all that man could desire, all that heart could wish touching the consolations of good eating, good drinking, with the concomitants of genial hearts and buoyant spirits. In this respect the BALLARDS have much to answer for; they made this world too delightful, garnishing it with such temptations and enjoyments that men were in danger of becoming oblivious to any other.

We welcome them again to their true sphere—that alone in which they can be happy—that of making other people happy, which is one of the noblest attributes of true gentlemen. May they always be cheered and prospered by a houseful of worthy guests, and may time lay his hand gently upon them as men who have largely contributed to the good and comfort of mankind.—[Richmond Dispatch.

The BALLARDS and the BALLARD HOUSE.

Our citizens and the traveling public will be more than pleased to hear that the famous BALLARD HOUSE has once again passed into the hands of Mr. J. P. and Major THOMAS E. BALLARD, those princes of hotel keepers, who to-day announce themselves prepared, as of yore, to cater to the taste and comfort of all. Throughout the length and breadth of this country, the Ballard House, under the management of the Ballards, was once, and now is, destined to be again as a synonym for good living, and all the thousand comforts and conveniences which can make Hotels delightful. Nothing that one can write can add to the reputation either of the House or its Proprietors. The card of the Messrs. BALLARD appears in our advertising columns. All know that they will do all and even more than they promise.—[Richmond Times.

The above extracts give a feint idea of the popularity of these gentlemen who have just resumed the management of the Ballard Hotel. As gentlemen they have no superiors, as caterers no equals. Their experience is scarcely without a parallel, their acquaintance without limit. Their absence we regretted, their return we hail with pleasure. Call at the Ballard Hotel, and you will realize what we have failed to convey.—The Publishers.
